ADMINISTRATION

To the Graduates of 1993,

May each one believe in herself - each one is unique - God does not make photocopies. You can make a difference in this world of ours (And I know you will). You will make a difference because within you lies goodness and all the goodness implies. I like to think that your Sacred Heart education has helped you to realize that you can forge ahead to build a worthwhile life - a life filled with respect for others, with unselfishness, with strength, with gratitude. And never forget that precious asset a sense of humor. I love you and care for you - each one has a share in my prayers.

M. Johnson R.S.C.J.

Dear graduates of 1993,

It has been a joy for me to share part of this year with you, and I am happy to have had the chance to get to know you. I can look forward to welcoming you when you return to visit. I have every confidence that each of you will approach the challenges ahead with the same energy you have brought to your life at Sacred Heart. May God go with you to lighten your steps and fill your lives with joy.

WELCOME MS. BURNS!

On February 18, 1993, Sacred Heart underwent a great change. On this special day, Ms. Burns became our new headmistress. Her very first day seemed to set a tone for the rest of the year. Sacred Heart was host for the Pre-provincial Debating Tournament. There was much hustling and bustling going on that day, and it does not seem to have stopped. Since then, Ms. Burns has enthusiastically overseen and participated in Sacred Heart's various committees, fundraisers, and school activities. Her wonderful smile added to the fun and enjoyment of every occasion. It takes a very special person to hold the title of Sacred Heart headmistress. We are very grateful for all the love and kindness you have shown us. The students would like to warmly welcome Ms. Burns to the Sacred Heart family, and we look forward to many fun-filled years to come.

My tear-stained world of make-believe . . . Don't ever end. Hold my hand and I'll take you with me, up the rocky climb of my hidden staircase. They echo endlessly. My sanity always bringing me back to face reality. I don't think "One Day" will ever come. If sadly you have by this day gone, thank you for showing my eyes a new world where I control my fear . . . It ate away my strength, my hope and my desire. Don't let your mind wastefully slip away into a world of monotonous boredom. I could say nothing wrong of you, only of the world we shared. "FROM A HIGHER UP THAN HEAVEN AND A HARDER DOWN THAN STONE, SHAKE THE FEAR THAT'S ALWAYS CLAWING, PULLS ME CLAWING DOWN ALONE" - The Cure (Fear of Ghosts). My warmth in the shivering night, my smile in a time of need . . . stay away from the garbage trucks. "AND USELESSLY AWAKES IN ME TO FEEL AGAIN THE REAL BELIEF, SOMETHING MORE THAN MOCKERY . . ."

Eric, Leah, Jasmin, people at the lunch table, and significant others . . . The last five years have left me speechless.

VALERIE KHALIL

When we were young, and our heart was an open book, you used to say "live and let go because nothing lasts forever". So many laughs, so many hugs, so many cries. We've made it through these five hard years together, Steph (my twin). Boarding, what a blast. C.C., soap fight, attitude, let's hold hands, geek of the century, mommy we miss you. My bangs don't look like rainbows anymore. If we're lost, then we are lost together in Rosemere, Naoko (B.B.). 4 AA rules. Jue, you're an amazing friend. We'll have to speedwalk again someday. Andrea, take my advice "Never do something bad". Steph P., at the beginning, enemies, at the end, friends forever. Shannon B.N., not anymore, I miss you. Thanks to my family, I made it! Carole, thanks for your help. Yesterday's got nothing for me, old pictures that I'll always see. Time just fades the pages in my book of memories. Thanks for the souvenirs, gang (E.C. & Y.C. & L.R.). Thanks for listening. To all my friends, je vous aime beaucoup and will never forget.

Success is a journey & not a destination. I used to wonder if ever I would reach the end of the hall, where my picture would brighten the dull walls like those who have come before. A thousand suns have risen since, & a million stars have shimmered in the sky. My high school years are over now, & I shall tackle the future with all the memories I have accumulated through the years - Cin, Cinderella, . . . SECONDARY V RETREAT

On one cold January morning, 78 of us set off to enjoy a two-day retreat in St-Jerome. We listened to Mr. Shaw play guitar and let Miss Mastro entertain us with her "thought provoking" games. It seemed as though everyone got along and really could put aside their differences for a couple of days. Mrs. Flynn had organized a special liturgy for us and it truly was "tear-jerking", and beautiful nonetheless. From that point on, it really hit home that we were leaving each other, but for most of us, retreat seemed to make the giant step after Sacred Heart, a little bit smaller.

Farewell Mother,

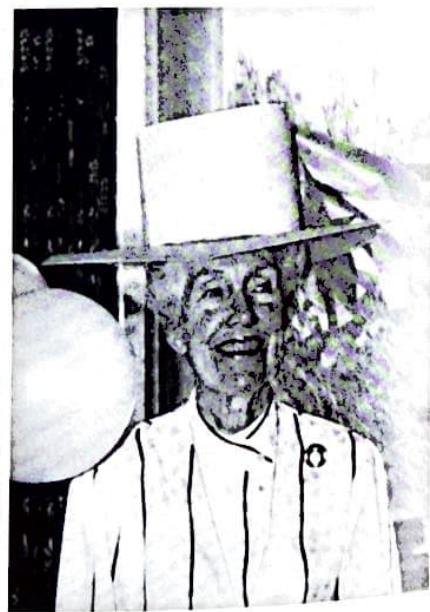

"Always a Sacred Hearter!"

Thank you for being for us.

Pickles, ducks and petunias for Mother.

Mother in her birthday hat!

but never goodbye,...

Some of Mother's older habits!

For you, Mother

Through all the years,
And all the tears,
The jokes, the smiles,
And lots of laughter,
Past, present,
And forever after,
To share with each
And to give no matter,
You have been there.
"All is for one and one is for all,"
Yet you are one AND you are all,
Thank you for sharing
Your happy moments,
Joys, stories, and funny tokens,
To treasure within Each heart you touch,
Gentle chiding
And encouragement much.
The wise experiences
You take time to teach,
To put our hearts
In the dreams we will reach.
Thousand words cannot express,
A simple message from each of us;
Thanks for sharing
Your love, your joys, your life,
True to your words,
You have been for us.

CHRISTMAS WISHES

*I heard the bells on Christmas Day
Their old familiar carols play,
And wild and sweet
The words repeat peace on earth, good-will to men.
Longfellow*

MOTHER-DAUGHTER TEA

*Who ran to help me when I fell,
And would some pretty story tell,
Or kiss the place to make it well?
My mother.*

DASHABUSTADD

This year's DASHABUSTADD left us with many memories. Through many smiles and tears, we said farewell to Mother Johnson, who through the years has dedicated her life to her "girls". It was also a day to welcome Ms. Burns, our new head, and to extend to her a warm greeting. Our morning began with a prayerful celebration of Mass, and we presented Mother Johnson with mementos, symbolizing the many things that she has given to us so graciously as headmistress of our school. A package of dog biscuits carried by a student, a book of etiquette brought forth by Mrs. Cochrane, and a monkey's tail so humorously given by Mr. Kousik, were only few among the things that we gave expressing our appreciation.

After Mass we assembled in the cafeteria for brunch as we awaited the production of "The Pup, the Sun, and the Rock." It was a beautiful, touching, inspiring play which gave a clear sense of what inner beauty and love really mean.

Finally our morning ended with the presentation of gifts. Since Mother Johnson was leaving, we thought of something special to give her. Together as a school, we gave her a collection of our drawings and letters put together in a special book exclusively designed for her.

The love expressed, and seen throughout the day, brought us together as we truly realized what being part of a Sacred Heart family really means.

CARNIVAL '93

Winter Wonderland turned out to be a lot of fun for all who participated. Our ski day at Mt. St. Saveur was great and everyone had a lot of fun on the slopes, as well as tubing and cross-country skiing. The Cabane à Sucre was our newest experience which received rave reviews. Once again the video dance was a huge success and for those songs which didn't have a video we were entertained by the lovable Coyote and the Roadrunner. We'll see most of you next year! Oh! and try and remember your cameras next year!

WALK-A-THON '93

This year Sacred-Heart, Loyola, Q.A.A., and Villa-Maria, once again chose a special charity to walk for. This year's charity was Passages which is an organization which gets young women off the street. We raised over $10 000. The walk took us from Loyola High School to the old port in Old Montreal for lunch. The trip back to Loyola led us up Crescent. We took a rest at Ben & Jerry's where we were given free ice-cream. Upon returning to Loyola we were entertained by the best talent from each of the schools. The day turned out to be a lot of fun but did some of us ever get burned!!

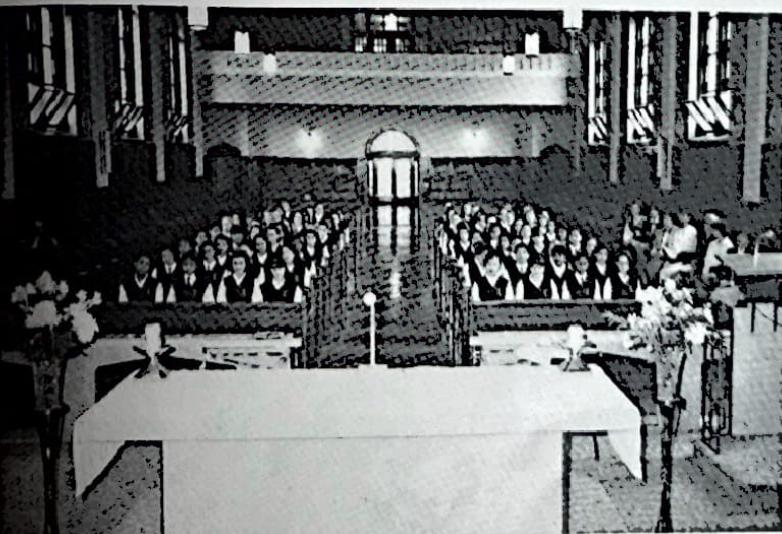

SECONDARY V ENTERTAINMENT

RING CEREMONY

On May 13, 1993, the Secondary Vs received their graduation rings and their AMASC pins. The ceremony which had been postponed on many occasions for a myriad of reasons, was the Secondary V class' first step on the path to graduation. It was an intimate ceremony. Only the administration, the faculty, Ms. Tinmouth Clayton, and the graduating class were present in the chapel. The ceremony proved to be quite a meaningful experience since it was the first of many graduation-related ceremonies that lent itself to reflections of our lives as alumnae of the Sacred Heart.

THE CLASS OF '93

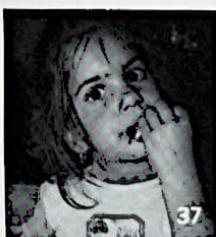

Cheers

*Be glad there's always Sacred Heart,
Where everybody
knows your name,
And they're always glad you came,..
You wanna go where everybody knows your name.*

May you always find new roads to travel;

New horizons to explore;

New dreams to call your own.

If the land of make believe is inside your heart,
It will never leave,
There's a golden gate where the fairies all wait
And dancing moons, for you,...

Springtime

That perfume and the smell of Spring through the window bring to mind a piece of my past that I like to remember.
I have fallen in love over and over and I don't regret the memories that Spring can evoke;
I'm happy that I had someone to share the season with and I will never forget you.

Grandpa

Answer this one question,
And I will be satisfied,
Of all the people,
How come Grandpa died?

Did he do something wrong?
It is so confusing and puzzles me.
Is it a crime to make jokes and keep people happy?

My heart hurts still,
For I miss him so.
I will never forget him,
Why did he have to go?

He somehow worked miracles,
Something no one else could do.
Now it seems a part of me,
Shall forever be blue.

The last time I saw him,
He opened his eyes.
He touched my hair . . .
That was our last goodbye.

I'm not sure I've yet come to realize That he's really gone.
One more question,
Why'd he suffer for so long?

Cindy Jeffers II

Hold me now
Even if for a minute
For when you leave
We'll never hold each other again
You're a part of me,
I never want to let go.
I'll promise to think of you,
I'll promise to dream of you,
I'll promise to cry for you.
So, hold me now,
And hold me when you leave
And hold me when I die.

Leah Giannakis V

The Fallen Cradle

I walk and I hear
a sweet lullaby sung;
haunting words and ghostly melody,
softly to the angel in cradle.
Who, in the escape to her dreams,
discovered a place
with a yellow crescent moon
and soft candle-light;
With music from the box and hopeful promises made to be sealed
by the reassuring kiss of the mother;
The rainbow is shining through the clouds,
drops of water glistening in the sun . . .
T'was but the cry of a mother, pleading broken hearted over a child;
fast asleep in the wonderland of God,
where only the purest and truest find their salvation.
And where the fallen cradle is picked up.

I Will Forever Cherish

Friendships that are true in spirit have found a priceless treasure.
Those who've sought to find this love
Have gained in every measure.

To every day that comes and goes,
to every day that's past.
To every day that fills our hearts that will forever last.

Although sometimes we do not speak
we share each others' pains, as well as cheer each other up for in these times - we've gained.

To laugh - to cry . . .
To smile or sigh . . .
I will forever cherish -
All you've done
and what's to come,
No memories shall perish.

Sell Your Love For Peace

Estuary of blessedness, penetrates into the circle of a once barren core,
Now fertile.

Shower of emotion
a rhapsody of tenderness uplifts the fair one, Resurrected.

Blur of the mind,
hides one in fear
to stay the night longer,
A Sanctuary.

Boogey-man breaks
the circle unseen
in the night
SCREAM
It is gone,
everything tender, blessed,
a thief
Madness

Where is the pawn broker,
the Shylock,
my necklace, the ring, the bracelet Anything?

I ache, damn the thief hated, loved alone, together scream, laugh
What's that you say?
my love for peace
of mind, of heart Never!

Annie Mohammed V

Necessities

All I want is someone to say,
"Everything'll be O.K."
But that is too much to ask.
All I want is someone to give me hope,
But that is too much to ask.
All I want is for someone to care,
But that is too much to ask.
All I need is a friend,
I hope it's not too much to ask.

Kathleen Hannan V

Do I disappoint you?

Do you wonder what lies beneath the pretty surfaces
Which you term striking, en vogue or whatever else you choose to call it,
You make me your paragon that drifts upon your arm
like something from Elysium,
And who is on parade past some shrine before some appraising crowd.

Is that all that I am?

Once the doe has spoken
you laugh at her when her ears are deaf to your merriment,
She is not the mindless creature that you deem her to be, but what of that,
It has no meaning whatsoever
even if she has the cunning and wit to escape the shaft of the night,
What of your paragon, your angel, your doe?

MEMORY BOOK STAFF

Katie and Gita hanging around!

What a year it's been! The Memory Book staff has never been so busy trying to cover such a wide range of events as we did this year. Yet, despite all the technical difficulties - cropping pictures, photos that didn't quite turn out, layouts that were drawn incorrectly, and the stress attacks over our tight budget - we managed to pull through and finish the book in time. We'd like to thank all those who helped out deep into the twilight hours before our dreaded deadlines, as well as those who put so much of their time and effort into working on pages that weren't even assigned to them. We'd also like to express our heartfelt thanks and appreciation to our advisor, Mr. Silverthorne, who was always there to smooth out any last minute wrinkles and ease our worries. Here's hoping that the memories captured in this year's annual will serve as a pleasant and touching reminder in future years!
